

Rural Policing Training Workshop: Officer Survival

Date: October 11, 2011

Location: Adams, Wisconsin

Program Focus:

Ultimate Survival Instincts

This program addresses officer safety by examining the four most common causes of law enforcement fatalities and how an officer's natural instincts can be both an asset and a liability. The following topics are presented in a very dynamic format utilizing video, meaningful statistics, case studies and interesting personal experiences to impress upon attendees that their personal safety and career survival truly is up to them:

- ❖ The role of the unconscious mind in officer safety
- ❖ Reality of violent encounters and tactical options
- ❖ Visualization and Preparation
- ❖ Active shooter considerations and use of force tactics
- ❖ Traffic stop strategies and squad car positioning
- ❖ Pursuit issues and consequences (emotional, criminal, civil)
- ❖ Risk Management: Roadway hazards
- ❖ Street interviews, body language and proxemics
- ❖ Emotional survival and a healthy off-duty perspective
- ❖ Pre-attack indicators and deception cues

Who Should Attend: Qualified applicants must be full-time, sworn law enforcement peace officers.

Eligibility: This program is being funded by the FLETC's Rural Policing Institute. Preference for admission into this program is given to non-federal law enforcement officers or other emergency responders working in rural areas. "Rural" is defined as any area outside of a metropolitan statistical area (MSA), as defined by the Office of Management and Budget; or any jurisdiction inside of a MSA located in a county, borough, parish or land under the jurisdiction of an Indian Tribe with a population of no more than 50,000. Please visit Eligibility Requirements for more information. Non-rural applicants may be admitted on a space-available basis approximately 35 days prior to the program's start date.

Cost: TUITION-FREE Attendees are responsible for all travel, lodging and meal expenses.
